EDGE OF WILDNESS™

An aerial photograph of a tropical coastline. In the foreground, there are terraced rice fields with varying shades of green and yellow. A few palm trees are scattered throughout the fields. In the middle ground, a dense, green forested hill slopes down towards a white sandy beach. The ocean is a vibrant turquoise color, with white waves breaking onto the shore. The sky is a clear blue with some light, wispy clouds. The overall scene is a beautiful representation of a tropical paradise.

“You choose, we make it happen,
you’re free, this is your paradise
and it is yours to explore.”

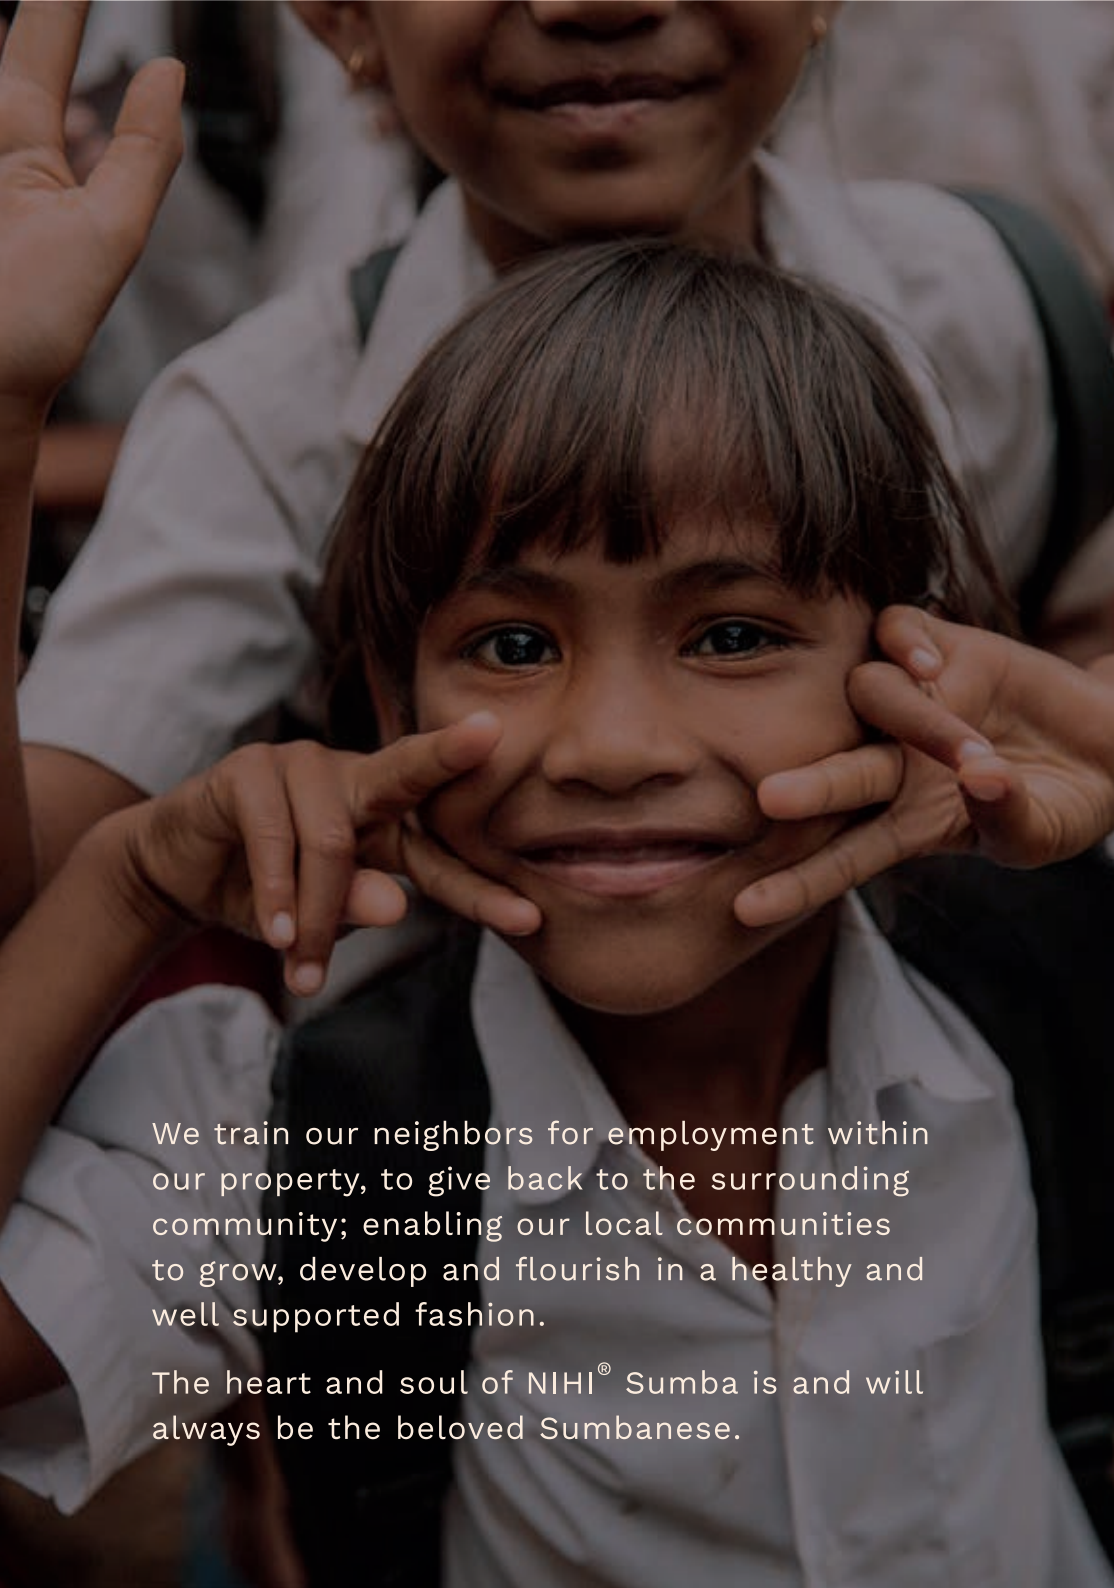

A World Apart

Perched on the Edge of Wildness, along the quiet shores of Nihiwatu Beach, NIHI Sumba is an award-winning island retreat unlike anywhere else on earth. Located 400 kilometres east of Bali, the resort is set within 270 hectares of extraordinary coastline, tropical forest, rolling hills, and ancient tribal lands.

Often described as Indonesia's last wild island, Sumba is a place of remarkable beauty and enduring tradition, where vast empty beaches, dramatic landscapes, and ancient culture remain largely untouched by time. It is within this extraordinary setting that NIHI has become a destination unlike any other.

For a select few, ownership at NIHI offers the opportunity to become part of this remarkable story, a private sanctuary surrounded by the untamed beauty and timeless spirit of Sumba.
